ABOUT THE COMMUNITY FOUNDATIONS

Founded in 1969 as the Area Fund, the Community Foundations of the Hudson Valley is a public, nonprofit organization that works to strengthen our community by helping individuals, businesses and organizations establish and administer funds that support vital causes and charities. Partnering with our generous donors, we address current and emerging community needs through effective grantmaking to improve the quality of life for all. Additionally, we provide technical assistance to help nonprofits operate more effectively.

To accomplish this we:

- Establish endowment funds for nonprofits and other charitable causes
- Help donors in their charitable giving
- Assist financial advisors and attorneys to explore giving options to benefit their clients
- Provide grants and resources to community organizations
- Provide scholarship opportunities to area students, and
- Work with government, private foundations, and local leaders to address current and emerging needs.

Last year over $10 million in grants and scholarships were awarded in Dutchess, Putnam, Ulster and surrounding counties – dollars that are working in our communities in response to the needs of our fellow residents.

For more information about the Community Foundations, please visit our website at www.communityfoundationshv.org or call us at (845) 452-3077.

GENERAL SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

What is the Community Foundations Scholarship Program?

The Community Foundations administers a wide variety of scholarship funds for area residents and others attending post-secondary, technical and vocational institutions of higher learning.

Am I eligible to apply?

All of the scholarships have very specific criteria that applicants must meet. The donor or advisory committees defined the eligibility criteria when the scholarship was established. However, the general criteria that apply to most scholarships is listed below.

Applicants must:

- ◆ plan to attend an accredited two or four-year college or university as an undergraduate student or
- ◆ plan to attend an accredited vocational or technical institution
- ◆ enroll as a full-time student (12 credit hours undergraduate)
- ◆ demonstrate academic achievement
- ◆ demonstrate financial need
- ◆ scholarships may not be applied to past due expenses

May I apply for more than one scholarship?

Yes. You may apply to any scholarship for which you meet the eligibility requirements. Check each scholarship description for further details.

How much does it cost to apply for a scholarship?

There is no charge to apply.

Will the scholarship awards cover the entire costs of my college education?

No. Scholarship awards are intended to provide only partial support. Most scholarships offer varying award amounts depending on the size of the fund, the number of qualified applicants and the criteria of the fund. Students should investigate additional sources of financial aid such as those listed in financial aid offices of high schools, colleges and public libraries. High school and college counselors can also provide information for federal financial aid.

Where can I attend school with these scholarships?

Most of the scholarships are for schools in the U.S. Exceptions are noted in the individual scholarship descriptions.

Are the scholarship awards taxable?

Generally, scholarships used for educational costs, such as tuition, fees, books and supplies are not taxable. However, any portion of the scholarship used for room and board or miscellaneous expenses is taxable. Please consult a tax expert for advice.

Do I need to repay scholarship money?

No. Scholarships are charitable grants.

Will the Community Foundations release any of my personal information that it receives?

All information received is confidential and will only be reviewed by the appropriate review committee members who agree to maintain confidentiality.

Does Community Foundations make the decisions regarding who receives scholarships?

Each scholarship fund has its own advisory committee that reviews applications and makes recommendations for scholarship recipients to the Community Foundations' Board of Trustees.

When will I be notified?

All complete scholarship application submissions will receive a confirmation of receipt. All award recipients will receive notification after the selection committees meet, by late June in most cases. Applicants that do not receive notification were not selected for awards.

If I am awarded a scholarship, will I receive the check?

No. The check goes directly to the institution's financial aid or scholarship office.

If I receive a scholarship one year, will I automatically receive an award for the following year?

No. In most cases, scholarships are not renewable. A few scholarships do allow you to apply again in subsequent years. Several of the scholarships are multi-year and there are conditions for continuation. Check each scholarship description for further information.

Where would I send a thank-you letter if I receive a scholarship?

Address a thank-you letter to "Scholarship Committee" and mail it to Community Foundations, 80 Washington Street, Suite 201, Poughkeepsie, NY 12601. Thank you letters are encouraged and are appreciated by Donors and Committee members.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

How do I apply?

Some scholarships may specify recommendations from specific individuals. Attach letters on official letterhead including a signature.
- ◆ List of extra-curricular activities and work experience and/or resumes.

Questions

If you have any questions, please contact the Community Foundations at (845) 452-3077 or scholarships@communityfoundationshv.org.

HELPFUL APPLICATION INFORMATION

The Application:

Most of the time, one or more people will see, read, review and score your application. It matters how you prepare your application. Here are a few things to keep in mind:

1. Follow the directions
2. Watch and correct spelling and grammar

1. Follow The Directions:

The Foundations will simply discard applications that are incomplete, missing attachments or do not comply with the stated instructions. Do not assume that you will be notified if your application is incomplete or missing attachments. It is solely your responsibility to submit a complete application. There is no benefit to turning in an incomplete application early.

2. Watch Your Spelling and Grammar:

Since you are applying for a scholarship to college, there are certain expectations. At a minimum, it is expected that you know how to use spell-check.

We provide you with an online application and recommend that you work from a Microsoft Word file so that you may save your work and copy/paste your responses into the online application. Perform a spell-check for all sections/attachments. Knowing that spell-check does not always catch everything, you should have a good speller proofread your work before you submit your application. It is difficult to compose, type, and proof your own work.

Remember: while Microsoft Word is a helpful tool to spell check, the software cannot read your mind. The words “their”, “there” and “they’re” are all spelled correctly, but they mean different things. Don’t rely on spell-check as a grammar check. You might also try reading your answers out loud as a way to identify spelling or grammar mistakes. Poor grammar and punctuation will kill a great application.

The Essay:

All applications require an essay. Some scholarships require a specialized essay. It is your responsibility to review the requirements for each scholarship and submit the correct materials. Not submitting the specific required essay will also kill an otherwise great application.

There are several key elements to writing a good essay. There are also several known rules when it comes to essays.

Any and all essays or papers you write should be your own work. Anything you copy or use that comes from someone else is their work - not yours. If you use someone else’s work and do not credit them for the thoughts and ideas, it is plagiarism.

If you are asked to attach a specific essay, write about the subject matter that is listed. Tie your essay to the scholarship. If it is a memorial scholarship, what does the scholarship description say about the donor or the person named in the scholarship? How can you relate to the description of the scholarship or person? You can use most of your essay over again, but the personal touches may help it stand out.

Read and follow all of the information above about grammar, punctuation, spelling and proofreading.

The Transcript:

Most scholarships for which you are applying require you to attach your official transcript(s). You will need to obtain a copy from the school you currently (or last) attend(ed) in advance of the application deadline. If you need more information, contact your guidance counselor, academic advisor or school office.

The FAFSA – Free Application for Student Aid:

Every student who wants to attend college and be considered for federal financial aid must fill out a FAFSA. Even if you do not think that you are eligible for Student or Financial Aid, most colleges and universities now mandate that you must complete the FAFSA. Non-Traditional students must also complete the FAFSA. Keep in mind that completing the FAFSA is a bit time consuming. You will need your most recent tax information. If you are someone's dependent, (this usually applies to students living at home who have just graduated from high school), you will need their tax information. For more information, contact your school guidance office, your academic advisor, or visit the FAFSA website at:

<http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>. You will need to complete the FAFSA in order to get your SAR (Student Aid Report) that contains your EFC (Expected Family Contribution) which is required for most scholarships. The FAFSA form should be completed well in advance of the scholarship application deadline to ensure the information is processed and returned to you in time to be included in the application. Only the summary page of the SAR (which includes the EFC data) is required.

The SAR – Student Aid Report:

Once you complete the FAFSA, you will receive a SAR. This report has all the pertinent information that your college, university or other institution of higher education needs in order to determine the amount of financial aid for which you are eligible. Most scholarships at the Community Foundations require you to attach your SAR to your scholarship application.

The EFC – Expected Family Contribution:

The EFC is usually located in the upper right corner of your SAR. Colleges, universities and other institutions of higher education use this number to determine the amount of financial aid for which you are eligible. We use it as a guide for financial need as well.

Letters of Recommendation:

The recommendations you supply should never come from people related to you. If all of your work experience is at a family-owned business, and your mom or dad was your boss for the last 3 years, do not use them as a reference. Use a teacher, a coach, a clergy member from your church, etc. – anyone except family.

It is a good idea to talk to the person recommending you about the scholarship you are seeking so they will know how to best represent you. Simply attaching a letter of recommendation from another use (i.e. your college application) will not help you stand out with the scholarship committee. Letters of recommendation should be on official letterhead and be signed by the person writing the letter.

Make sure to include people who know what type of person you are and who are familiar with your work. It is important to select individuals who know your distinctiveness so that they can provide a positive and accurate description of you.

Their recommendation of you should include:

- Their name and your name
- How they know you
- How long they have known you

OTHER SCHOLARSHIP RESOURCES

This Scholarship Directory is just a starting point. It makes sense to investigate all possible sources of assistance for which you may be eligible. Check with your guidance counselor. Prior to your senior year, read your hometown newspapers (especially in April, May and June) for the names of scholarships given in your area. If you think you may qualify, contact the sponsoring organization.

The Community Foundations in partnership with several other organizations offers additional scholarships through your guidance department and from our website at www.communityfoundationshv.org. These include the Miles of Hope Breast Cancer Foundation Scholarship and several scholarships from the Dutchess County Regional Chamber of Commerce through The Chamber Foundation. The Community Foundations also works with several school districts to offer scholarships and awards with recipients selected by the schools. We encourage you to check the Scholarship section of our website for additional scholarship opportunities.

You should also contact your house of worship (i.e. church, synagogue, mosque, etc.) to see if either the local or national organization offers any student aid programs. Contact local civic and fraternal organizations, religious groups, and veterans' posts; many local, state and national units sponsor some scholarship programs, especially for members' children. Sometimes these are limited to a specified high school; more often they are given to a local area that includes several high schools.

Ask your parents to check with their employers. Many employers have some form of scholarship or grant aid available to help employees' children meet educational expenses; sometimes these programs are competitive, with awards based on academic achievement, while others are based on demonstrated need alone.

If your parents are members of labor unions or trade and professional associations, they may discover that these organizations have some type of aid available to assist members' children. If one of your parents is a military veteran, you might also qualify for some help. Investigate programs that may be underwritten by local businesses and industries. Much assistance is still provided by the general government, the states, and increasingly, the schools and colleges involved.
